

Days On Market Compared to House Size

Do larger houses take longer to sell? Here we look at closed home sales over the past year, using only non-Short Sales and non-REOs. The blue line is linear, while the red line is more sensitive to the individual data points. It shows that homes between 1500 and 2000 SF sell fastest, while those homes that are larger or smaller take longer to sell. Overall the trend is that the larger a home is, the longer it takes to sell it. 4/6/2011.
